Piel Leather products are manufactured with the finest selection of full grain cowhide. Every leather bag is unique because every hide is unique. Leather is an entirely natural product; don't expect the uniformity of man-made materials from it. Slight imperfections such as scratches, scars, wrinkles and natural color variations should not be considered defects, but rather part of the character and beauty of natural fine leather.

Lexol Cleaner & Conditioner

The unique Lexol formula penetrates easily into wet or dry leather to bond with leather fibers. Unfinished leathers quickly absorb Lexol while absorption may proceed more slowly with finished leathers. Lexol does not leave leather slick, sticky, or slippery. It leaves no greasy residue to stain or discolor clothing.

Lexol-pH deep cleans and foams away dirt and oils that build up on leather articles. You can trust Lexol-pH because it is made to clean leather.

Special Note: It is not uncommon for naked (unfinished) leather to darken during the cleaning and conditioning process. After air-drying, most leathers will return to their original color. We suggest testing to determine satisfaction, since leather articles tend to vary in color and degree of absorption. For best results follow cleaning with a light application of Lexol Leather Conditioner while the leather is still damp.
